TWO-STRUCTURE SITE • OWNED SOLAR

Property Overview

Marcus & Millichap is pleased to present 11025 Blix, a brand-new 2025 four-unit community in the heart of Toluca Lake. The Property comprises two structures on a single 8,260-square-foot lot — a front duplex of two 4BR/3BA split-level townhomes and a rear pair of detached 2BR/2BA accessory dwelling units — totaling ±4,958 rentable square feet.

Every unit was delivered with European cabinetry, stainless Samsung appliances, in-unit washer/dryer, vinyl-plank flooring, custom shades, and central HVAC. The property is gated and carries owned solar offsetting common-area load; the two front townhomes include four dedicated parking spaces. There is no deferred maintenance and the lowest reserve and repair tier appropriate for a 2025 build.

By its 2025 vintage the asset is exempt from the City of Los Angeles Rent Stabilization Ordinance and California AB 1482, and the owner-friendly expense structure — tenants pay trash, electric, internet/cable, and insurance on this all-electric property — drives a clean operating profile. The all-new, low-touch configuration broadens the buyer pool well beyond a typical value-add four-unit to 1031 exchange buyers, private local investors, and first-time multifamily buyers seeking turnkey product.

Offered at $2,700,000 — $675,000 per unit and $545 per square foot — the Property reflects a 5.27% cap rate on stabilized income, pricing approximately 3% below the sold-comp per-unit median while delivering a measurable yield premium to recent Toluca Lake and North Hollywood closings. A disciplined, clear-to-trade opportunity in an established, Westside-adjacent submarket.

Two NoHo comps went pending — one in just 2 days — confirming active demand when four-unit product is priced inside the comp range. The Hortense compound two doors south, listed aspirationally at $5.395M, sits unsold after 111 days — the cautionary counterpoint. The subject at $2.7M is deliberately positioned to clear, not to sit.
